

Established Artist Project Grant

2008 Deadline: January 4th

Please note that this application will be limited to Visual Artists only. Next year, artists can apply in the disciplines of: dance, literature, music, theatre and performance art. These disciplines will rotate every year.

THE UTAH ARTIST ENDOWMENT

A challenge grant awarded to the Utah Arts Council (UAC) from the National Endowment for the Arts in 1991 founded the Individual Artist Endowment and the Ethnic Arts Endowment. Interest generated by these endowments is designated for project grants awarded to both established and emerging artists of Utah, as determined by peer review. Tax-deductible contributions to the endowment continue to support Utah's artists in perpetuity. Because rates yield a different amount of interest each year, the grant amounts may vary slightly from year to year.

PURPOSE OF GRANT

The Utah Arts Council wishes to support the creative work of individual artists. This grant is meant to encourage artists to pursue new goals marked by inventive and innovative work. By facilitating the professional and creative goals of individual artists, the UAC cultivates a community in which the artistic voice contributes to both the quality of life and a creative economy.

GUIDELINES

Established Artist Grant (up to $2000)

Intended for an artist who has practiced art professionally for at least five years and has received remuneration as an artist. An established artist has presented works to the public through exhibitions, performances or publications. These artists are often represented by an art dealer, publisher, agent or similar representative.

This larger grant is meant mostly to aid the established artist financially, as well as provide formal recognition, additional credentials, and an opportunity to showcase his/her work.

ELIGIBILITY

You are eligible to apply for a Project Grant if:

- You are a professional artist who is not currently enrolled in a certificate or degree-seeking program.
- You have lived in Utah for at least one year prior to the application deadline. (Evidence of U.S. and state residency may be required).
- You are 20 years of age or older.

You are not eligible to apply if:

- You produce art as a hobby.
- You have received a Project Grant within the last two years.
- You are a past Project Grant recipient and have not submitted a report letter.
- You received a UAC Publication Prize, Ethnic Artist Grant, Folk Arts Apprenticeship Grant or Visual Arts Fellowship in the current fiscal year.
- You are a UAC staff or board member.

LIMITATIONS

- Proposals eligible for funding under other UAC programs.
- Activities not directly related to the enhancement of an artist's career.
- Activities involving any organization employing the applicant.
- Any costs incurred prior to the official start date of the grant period.

COLLABORATIONS

Collaborative proposals between two or more artists contributing equally are also eligible for support. Applications must indicate the creative contribution of each collaborator. The application must be made in the name of one artist only, with the names of other participants listed in the project description. Support materials (resumes, statements) must be submitted for each collaborator also labeled with the names of all artists involved. Collaborative applications should be delivered or mailed jointly. If collaborative applications are awarded a grant, the applicant artist assumes responsibility for distributing the total award and submitting the final report.

An artist, who is normally recognized as part of a group, may apply individually, provided all artistic documentation is easily identifiable as solely his/her own.

REVIEW PROCESS

Discipline specific peer panels, ratified by the UAC Board of Directors, review all project grant applications. Reviewers are recognized for expertise in their discipline and their broad understanding of the arts. During the review process, individual proposals and resumes are discussed and considered together with the quality of work samples. Reviewers have flexibility in assigning dollar amounts to awardees.

A UAC board member who is an artist or arts professional may serve on a peer panel. Peer panelists generally serve for two years and their names are published in the UAC annual report.

EVALUATION CRITERIA

Grants are not based on need, but on artistic merit. The following criteria, with the first being of primary importance, affect evaluation:

- Aesthetic quality, invention and innovation as exhibited in support materials.
- Specificity and clarity of the proposal.
- Evidence that the proposed activity is an extension of the artist's work or aesthetic interest.
- Level of professional commitment and capacity as demonstrated in the artist's application materials.

HOW TO APPLY

Please note: electronic and fax transmissions will be accepted this year. Please e-mail your application and all support material to artistgrant@utah.gov.

All applicants must submit the following:

- The signed, original application, including proposal description and artist statement.
- Resume (optional for those applying as an emerging artist), no more than two pages, including educational background and professional achievements.

You must give credit to the Utah Arts Council in all promotional materials pertaining to work produced with support of the Project Grant. A statement such as, "This program is supported in part by a grant from the Utah Arts Council and the National Endowment for the Arts," must be part of credits, publicity and promotions. Awardees are required to articulate to their community how public support of artists benefits the community.

IMPORTANT NOTES TO ALL APPLICANTS:

Review these guidelines carefully in preparing your application. Failure to comply with requirements results in the disqualification of your application.

Additionally:

- You may submit only one application per review.

- Label each submitted item with your name.
- All written material submitted should be on 8-1/2" x 11" white paper and typed or clearly printed in black ink, size 12 point or larger type, including slide scripts, manuscripts, resumes, etc.

*SUPPORT MATERIALS

Support materials are required with each application. The materials depend on the category and discipline in which you are applying. Since support materials are the means by which the artistic quality and aesthetic merit of your work is assessed, it is important to submit work that best conveys the concepts and /or techniques you employ. Quality of materials is a major consideration. Poor slides, illegible manuscripts, scratchy audiotapes, etc., are a liability.

All support material must be of current work: that is, work accomplished within the last three years. In general, submit support materials that are relevant to the application. Only one copy of support materials is required with the exception of scripts and literary submissions. If you believe your work cannot be adequately represented in one of the formats described, or does not fall within the three year definition of "recent," contact your discipline representative.

Visual Arts includes but is not limited to: painting, sculpture, photography, printmaking, fine craft, installation, emergent forms and experimental art.

VISUAL ARTS: Submit ten, quality images of recent work. Images can be 35mm slides, or digital images (72 dpi JPGs (not on DVD or Power Point) provided on CD. Slides/images of details are accepted, but slides/images should represent a minimum of eight works. A consistent and cohesive selection of current work is recommended. Please follow the slide preparation instructions for the submission of slides. Include one copy of a slide list. Paper makers may submit 8-10 samples of original work.

ARTIST BOOKS: If your work is published in sufficient quantity, submit one copy of three originals with application. Otherwise submit slide/digital documentation. See “Visual Arts” above.

DESIGN ARTS: Includes architecture, landscape, graphic design, historic preservation, urban planning, fashion design, industrial design, interior design and commercial design. Support materials should represent the ongoing practice of design in the categories listed above. Submit ten quality images either by slide or CD of recent work. See “Visual Arts” above and follow the slide preparation instructions for submission of slides. Support materials may also consist of design work produced or constructed, as well as drawings of proposals for works not yet realized. Fashion designers must also submit fabric swatches and slides/digital images of color illustrations. Architects, landscape architects, and urban planners may also submit clearly identified renderings/blueprints or specifications.

INSTALLATIONS, and EMERGENT FORMS: Select the appropriate type of support material, i.e., CD, slides, manuscripts and/or videotape that can properly represent your work. Consult the instructions for the support materials that you are submitting.

FORMAT OF SUPPORT MATERIAL

SLIDES/DIGITAL IMAGES: Digital images are preferred, but if you wish to submit slides, please mark your slides as follows: a. your name (last, first), b. number of slide, from 1-10, c. title of work, d. an arrow indicating top of work. To avoid jamming the projector, take care when applying tape, labels, or other materials to the slides. Writing directly on slide frames is preferable to affixing labels. Enclose in a clear plastic slide sheet. If you submit digital images on CD, please title each image appropriately.

IMAGE LIST: Visual Arts categories

One copy of an image list must be provided on a separate piece of paper with your name, the ten slides in the order they should be seen, the number of slide, title of work, date completed, medium and dimensions. If your work is a maquette, indicate the projected dimensions, material, and mark it "maquette." If you submit your images on CD, please list them in the order they should be seen. Include a separate image list with your name, the titles of the work, date completed, medium and dimensions.

RETURN OF SUPPORT MATERIALS:

If you would like to have your materials returned to you by mail, please include self-affixed, sufficient postage on a return envelope, properly addressed.

You may pick up support materials from the Utah Arts Council within six weeks of receiving notification letter. But please note: the Utah Arts Council is not responsible for unclaimed support materials 6 weeks after notification letter is sent. Materials may be discarded or recycled.
